"The time has come to expand our executive team as our increasingly technology-driven business expands and global transaction volume grows," said Eric H. Brunngraber, Cass chairman and chief executive officer. "Martin possesses the broad, sophisticated entrepreneurial skill set that will help position Cass to thrive in the years ahead."

Most recently prior to joining Cass, Resch was senior manager of the commercial banking group of Bank of the West, BNP Paribas in San Francisco, Calif. As executive vice president, Resch functioned as the group's chief administrative officer/chief operating officer with responsibility for strategy, operations, finance, technology and human resources. Other roles included corporate treasurer and leader of a B2B FinTech incubator.

Previously, he engaged in multiple entrepreneurial initiatives related to FinTech and financial markets. For example, Resch founded three equity and index option funds on the Pacific Exchange and, as a member of the board, actively participated in the sale of the Pacific Exchange to Archipelago, which was subsequently acquired by the New York Stock Exchange.

Resch, who holds dual citizenship in the U.S. and Austria and speaks fluent German, earned his bachelor's degree in computer science from Oregon State University and master's degree in business administration from Cornell University. He is also a graduate of the Pacific Coast Graduate School of Banking in Seattle, Wash.
