"It is an honor to be named the CEO of a company with such a long and great history as Cass," said Resch. "This is my dream job as I believe my experiences with financial technology, risk management and banking fit the future needs of the organization. I want to thank Eric and the Board of Directors for their confidence and trust. I look forward to Cass's future and am excited to work with our leadership and our 1,200 employees to support our customers with best-in-class service and provide continued value to our shareholders."

"Martin has proven to be an outstanding leader at Cass, implementing many strategic objectives within our invoice payment and information services business," said Brunngraber. "The Board of Directors and I have the utmost confidence in Martin's ability to lead Cass to continued success."

"On behalf of the Cass Board of Directors, we want to congratulate Martin and also recognize Eric's 43 years of dedicated service and outstanding leadership in guiding Cass through both challenging times and the periods of Cass's greatest successes to date. We thank him for his many accomplishments and look forward to benefitting from his continued leadership as Executive Chairman," said Joseph D. Rupp, Cass's Lead Independent Director and former Chairman & CEO of Olin Corp.

"Cass has been a huge part of my life for 43 years and I have been honored to be its CEO for the last 15 years," said Brunngraber. "I look forward to supporting Martin and the entire Cass team as we continue to lead our industry and position ourselves for success for many years to come."

Prior to joining Cass in November 2020, Resch was senior executive at Bank of the West in San Francisco, California. As executive vice president, Resch functioned as the commercial banking group's chief administrative officer/chief operating officer with responsibility for strategy, operations, finance, technology and human resources, as well as collaborating with a B2B FinTech incubator. His other roles at Bank of the West included corporate treasurer and leading the regulatory response to the Dodd-Frank and Volcker legislation.

Resch, who holds dual citizenship in the United States and Austria and speaks fluent German, earned his bachelor's degree in computer science from Oregon State University and master's degree in business administration from Cornell University. He is also a graduate of the Pacific Coast Graduate School of Banking in Seattle, Washington.
