

Cass Information Systems Named a Hot Company by PARCEL

September 15, 2026

Recognition underscores Cass's leadership in parcel spend management and transportation financial operations

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Cass Information Systems, Inc. (Nasdaq: CASS) has been named a 2026-27 Hot Company by PARCEL, a leading media source covering the small-package supply chain industry. Cass was recognized among a select group of solution providers featured in PARCEL's annual Hot Companies issue.

"Being recognized by PARCEL validates the value we deliver to high-volume shippers navigating an increasingly complex parcel environment," said Tony Urban, President - Transportation Information Services. "Carrier pricing changes, new surcharge structures, evolving service offerings, and increasing cost pressures make parcel management more challenging than ever. Cass helps organizations gain control, improve financial accuracy, and make better decisions with confidence."

Cass helps organizations manage parcel shipping costs through a comprehensive parcel spend management solution that includes invoice auditing, carrier performance analysis, service claims management, reporting, cost allocations, accrual support, and carrier payments. By combining advanced analytics with a robust payment infrastructure, Cass helps shippers improve visibility, strengthen financial controls, and optimize transportation spend.

Organizations use Cass to:

- Improve financial accuracy across parcel operations
- Identify savings opportunities and reduce unnecessary costs
- Recover eligible claims and billing discrepancies
- Strengthen carrier negotiations with better data and reporting
- Gain deeper visibility into shipping activity and cost drivers
- Ensure charges are validated, allocated, paid, and reported consistently

For more than 70 years, Cass has supported large and complex shippers with transportation financial management solutions that deliver both operational insight and financial confidence. As a publicly traded financial holding company, Cass applies rigorous controls and accountability to transportation spend management, helping organizations trust the data behind their decisions.

"Parcel spend management requires more than visibility alone," Urban added. "Organizations also need confidence in the financial process. Data creates visibility. Financial integrity creates confidence. The world's largest shippers choose Cass because they need both."
